WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed most of President Johnson's school aid bill early today after a bitter, marathon debate but stripped from the U.S. Office of Education one of its prized programs.

The result of the 14-hour session was mixed for the administration.

It won the big fight, defeating a determined Republican effort to turn the entire program over to the states, but suffered losses some members said seriously curbed federal efforts to aid education.

The main setback came on an amendment by Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., to give the states control of a program designed to help local communities set up experimental programs outside the regular school system.

John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare, warned the House such a step would diminish the effectiveness of the program and raise the specter of a church-state controversy that might end it in some states.

GOP-Dixie Combine

Republicans and Southern Democrats voted solidly for the amendment, which was adopted 230 to 185.

The same coalition backed Mrs. Green in a successful fight to eliminate control by the Office of Education over all funds to strengthen state education departments. The administration bill earmarked 15 per cent of the money for programs designated by the federal government.

Also adopted was an amendment by Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., that would increase the share of the total federal allocation going to Southern states. Unless Johnson puts more money into the program, it would mean cutbacks in all other states.

Earlier the House approved amendments that could hamper the Office of Education's effort to enforce school desegregation guidelines.

As it went to the Senate by a vote of 294 to 122, the bill would authorize $3.5 billion for aid to elementary and secondary schools for fiscal 1968-69. Under previous legislation the school aid is assured through June 30, 1968.

Left intact was the major provision, putting federal funds into school districts for special programs to aid children from low-income families. It gets 80 per cent of the funds.

Quiet Amendment Lost

That was the main target of an amendment by Rep. Albert H. Reiter, R-Minn., which was defeated 197 to 168.

At one point the Democratic House leadership lost complete control of the situation and it appeared the entire bill would be lost. Twice the leaders tried to adjourn and put off any further action but Republicans and Southern Democrats blocked them.

On final passage, 195 Democrats and 89 Republicans voted for it, and 80 Republicans and 42 Democrats against it. Quiet supporters of the bill but the entire top GOP leadership voted against it.

Senate Showdown On Tax Is Delayed

LANSING (AP) — A second Senate showdown vote was delayed today on a resolution to allow voters to decide if they want a 5 per cent ceiling on any state or local income tax.

The Senate rolled this morning showed 32 members present. Six were absent, with or without leave.

"I've got to postpone it — I don't have the votes," admitted Sen. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, who is forcing the issue.

Zollar succeeded Monday night in moving for reconsideration of the vote by which the resolution was defeated in the Senate just a week ago.

He had planned a second vote today, but added that his timing would depend on the head count of those present.

Zollar said he now will move to postpone the second vote on the issue until next Thursday.

The resolution failed passage last week when it only drew 24 favorable votes. A two-thirds favorable vote by both the House and Senate is needed to put the issue on the November, 1968, election ballot.

In the Senate, 28 favorable votes are needed.

"A couple of people who voted against it the last time told me they now are for the resolution," Zollar said. "But I'm in no hurry. I want to make sure all the votes are there before I move."

In other Capital developments Wednesday:

—The House passed bills to regulate community hospital authorities and require residents' advisory councils in urban redevelopment areas.

—The State Board of Education raised teacher standards to requiring 20, instead of 10, semesters of graduate work for permanent certification.

—Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, approved $1.9 million in advance school aid payments despite opposition from Gov. George Romney and State Treasurer Allison Green.

—Spokesmen for business and industry opposed the Senate-passed tax package at a House Taxation Committee hearing.

Zollar has contended the people have a right to put a ceiling on the tax, so the five per cent

'Soak Business' Fears Are Told

LANSING (AP) — A labor leader who wants a graduated state income tax and a housewife who wants to be a millionaire, Wednesday broke up a steady stream of businessmen who opposed the Senate tax package.

One after another, business and industry spokesmen said the fiscal proposals would force higher consumer prices, hurt Michigan business in competition with out-of-state firms and hurt Michigan in its competition to lure industry from other states.

Many agreed with Harry R. Hall, president of the State

Chamber of Commerce, that the senate-proposed 5 1/2 per cent corporate income tax should be trimmed to no more than 5 per cent and that the Senate's sliding-scale property tax relief proposal should be replaced by an across-the-board 10 per cent property tax cut.

Scholle Speaks

State AFL-CIO President August Scholle, on the other hand, advocated an 11 per cent tax on business, while Mrs. Virginia Crawford of Dearborn advocated no new taxes at all.

"I hoped to become a millionaire, but I won't with your taxes," Mrs. Crawford told the House Taxation Committee. "I feel you gentlemen do not understand fiscal reform. How about having a little guts and not putting on a tax at all."

"Fiscal reform means taxes, taxes, taxes," she added, "and I don't like it."

Scholle accused the business spokesmen of making "coercing and intimidating statements" when they said higher taxes would make some firms consider leaving the state.

He said 33 of the 50 states now have corporate profits taxes, "so where are they going to move to?"

Temporary Measure

Scholle said he could support the Senate plan as a temporary revenue-raising measure, but added he favored a constitutional amendment permitting a graduated state income tax.

John Curley, director for taxes of Benton Harbor's Whirlpool Corp., said if his firm's Michigan operations were transferred intact to Ohio or Indiana, its taxes would be less than they would be if the Senate package passed.

"Michigan, in its competition for new or expanding industry, is in an unfavorable position today," Curley said. "Therefore, any further overuse of industry as the source of revenue could have serious economic consequences—not only today but in years to come."

The Senate package, said John C. McCurry, general manager of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association, "would return Michigan to the days when it had the national reputation as a 'soak business' state."

U.S., Britain Rebuffed On Support Effort

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council is expected to meet again on the Middle East crisis Friday or Saturday after they receive Secretary-General U Thant's report on his peace mission to Cairo.

Cutting short his visit to Cairo by a day, Thant plans to return to his New York headquarters early Friday. A U.N. spokesman said the secretary-general spent a "cordial" three hours conferring with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The Soviet Union attempted to postpone the opening of the 15-nation council's debate Wednesday until Thant's return. But it failed to muster enough support to keep the question off the docket.

U. S. Setback

The United States and Britain suffered a setback when the Canadian-Danish resolution they supported failed to get enough backing to be put to a vote.

The resolution asked council support for Thant's efforts to "pacify the situation" and invited him to report on his return from Cairo. Ambassador George Ignatieff of Canada asked the council members to consult on it after Wednesday's session ended. But the Soviet Union, India, Bulgaria and Mali refused as a gesture of support for Egypt, whose delegate charged that the resolution was an attempt to sabotage Thant's mission.

"I am completely at a loss to understand what is happening here," U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said heatedly.

Goldberg told the council earlier the United States is willing to join the Soviet Union, France and Britain in efforts both within and outside the U.N. to prevent war in the Middle East.

"Withdraw Fleet"

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko did not reject the proposal for Big Four efforts—made first by France—but said if the United States and Britain really wanted to relax tension, they should "withdraw from the Mediterranean their fleets which constitute one of the most serious causes of tensions in that part of the world."

Ships Searched

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram reported that Egyptian authorities in the gulf stopped and searched two German ships Wednesday and allowed them to continue after learning their destination was Aqaba, Jordan's port within sight of Elath.

A six-ship amphibious force of the U.S. 6th Fleet left Naples today with 2,000 Marines aboard while the fleet's flagship, the guided missile cruiser Little Rock, left its base at Gaeta, 36 miles north of Naples.

U.S. Navy officers at Naples said both sailings were part of regular operations scheduled before the current threat of fighting in the Middle East.

Nasser Sympathetic Toward Thant Plan

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser was reported sympathetic today to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's peace proposals, including revival of the Egyptian-Israeli Armistice Commission to put a brake on the mounting crisis in the Middle East.

In other peace efforts, the United States pressed the Soviet Union to join America, France and Britain both within and outside the United Nations to try to prevent war in the Middle East.

Britain asked the Soviets, who are backing the Arabs, to use their influence to restrain Egypt and Syria.

President Johnson was reported planning to fly to Canada today to discuss the crisis with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

A major stumbling block to easing tensions was Egypt's proclaimed blockade of Israeli shipping to and from its southern port of Elath, on the Gulf of Aqaba, its link to East Africa, Asia and Iranian oil.

Despite Nasser's reported willingness to "facilitate" Thant's peace mission, it was doubted that he would lift the blockade, which Israel has said it would not permit.

However, there was no word of any Israeli attempt to challenge the Egyptian guns and patrol boats guarding the Strait of Tiran, the entrance from the Red Sea into the gulf. No Israeli ships have been reported en route to the gulf, and an official at Elath said no ships were docked there.

The week's casualties brought U.S. losses for the war to 10,253 dead and 61,425 wounded by unofficial tabulation. The previous peak figure for killed in action in one week was 274, reached twice this year. The toll reflects the mounting intensity of the war and the continued growth of

Among the captured items were 180 North Vietnamese masks seized Wednesday along with 1,000 mortar shells.

The casualty report listed 337 Americans killed, 2,282 wounded and 31 missing during last week. In addition, 241 South Vietnamese troops were reported killed and other allies, mainly the South Koreans, reported 50 dead. Communist losses were 2,464 killed. All this made the week by far the bloodiest of the war.

fighting in the Middle East. They would not say where in the Mediterranean the ships were going or whether they would join a 6th Fleet carrier task force in eastern waters.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, the Security Council met to discuss the Middle East. But the only developments were U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's urging for a big-power peace effort and a Soviet demand for withdrawal of U.S. and British warships from the Mediterranean.

Al Ahram, which often speaks for Nasser, said Egypt is prepared to facilitate Thant's mission "in all aspects that do not jeopardize the rights of sovereignty and security of the Arabs." It did not elaborate.

Reliable sources said Thant proposed an armistice commission under U.N. supervision similar to the one dissolved in 1956 after Israel refused to participate.

Egyptian sources said Egypt would be willing to endorse establishment of such a commission.

Air Raid Test

Thant held his first meeting with Nasser Wednesday night shortly before Cairo was blacked out in a test air raid alert.

A U.N. spokesman said Thant probably would leave Cairo for New York tonight, a full day ahead of his previously announced schedule. The spokesman said he had no explanation for the change of plans but there was speculation that the reason was Thant's apparent success with Nasser.

Al Ahram said Nasser did most of the talking in his four-hour meeting with Thant. It said he gave a detailed explanation of Egypt's "rightful action" in closing the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli shipping and in massing troops in the Sinai Desert to ward off "impending Israeli invasion against Syria."

Egypt and Syria moved troops to Israel's southwestern and northeastern borders after Israel threatened to retaliate for Arab raids into its territory. Saudi Arabia ordered general mobilization of its force Wednesday and Iraq said it would send land and air forces to support Egypt and Syria.

The week's casualties brought U.S. losses for the war to 10,253 dead and 61,425 wounded by unofficial tabulation. The previous peak figure for killed in action in one week was 274, reached twice this year. The toll reflects the mounting intensity of the war and the continued growth of

She Changed Delta County

Today is the 10th anniversary of the death of Mrs. Catherine Bonifas.

None of Delta County's residents have given as generously as she did for the betterment of the county community. Her bequests totaled more than $1,148,000 and resulted in public facilities of a much greater total because they were used as incentive money in most projects.

At the request of the Escanaba Daily Press John A. Lemmer, who was executor of the Catherine Bonifas Estate, has written an account of her benefactions. It is a timely reminder of the county's debt of gratitude to this good woman, who has set us all such an exemplary precedent in helpfulness.

State Parks Set For '67 Opening

Michigan's 70 state parks are braced for another jam-packed season which unofficially begins Memorial Day weekend.

Groomed to a "T," sporting new paint jobs, and offering more leisure-time facilities than ever before, the parks are in good shape for the new season which may well eclipse last year's daily attendance and camping figures.

In 1966, more than 16 million daily visitors and a record 300,000-plus camping families poured through the gates of state parks.

Again among the parks' standout attractions are their campground sites which have been expanded since last year to nearly 13,000 individual units. For the comfort and convenience of their outdoor guests, electricity has been extended to service about 10,200 of these campsites.

Vehicle entrance fees and camping charges are the same as in 1966.

Fees remain at 50 cents for daily permits and $2 for the annual stickers. Camping rates again vary from $1.50 to $2 per day, depending upon the facilities provided.

Heading the list for major camping additions are these parks with their totals for new sites:

Indian Lake State Park, Schoolcraft County, 144 units in the west shore campground which were open to only partial use last year.

Sure to be welcomed by those camping in travel trailers are sanitation dumping stations which have been added by the Conservation Department at:

Lake Gogebic State Park, Gogebic County; McLain State

Park, Houghton County; Porcupine Mountains State Park, Ontonagon and Gogebic counties; Brimley State Park, Luce County.

Park by park, here is the 1967 lineup of other improvements in the Upper Peninsula:

Bewabic State Park—Renovated park concession building and swimming dock.

Fayette State Park—Historic house of doctor being furnished and should be open to public viewing this summer.

Indian Lake State Park—Remodeled bathroom in south section which provides toilets and change courts, new campers' lounge with library and fireplace.

Muskallonge Lake State Park—Sand-bottomed beach at campground.

Detroit Police Defy Cavanagh's Crackdown Edict

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome Cavanagh Wednesday ordered a crackdown on a police ticket-writing strike and the Detroit Police Officers Association threatened to declare war on him.

"If the mayor wants war, war he will get," a DPOA spokesman said. "We will move forward with our protests and continue to take our fight to the citizens."

The slowdown in writing tickets has been in effect for a week as a gesture of protest by policemen—denied the right to strike under Michigan law—who want pay increases.

Tickets written by policemen put $9 million in the city coffers last year, officials said. Cavanagh, obviously angered by the ticket strike, ordered Police Commissioner Ray Girardin to end it.

"Bring the situation back to normal quickly," Cavanagh said he told Girardin. "Use disciplinary action whenever necessary."

The decision on whether to order a trial board, suspensions or only reprimands would be left to Girardin.

"But I want this slowdown stopped immediately," he said.

The city's 3,370 uniformed patrolmen—in a force with a total authorized strength of 4,600—have starting pay of $7,424 a year and a maximum of $8,335 after four years.

Cavanagh said he had no intention of reconsidering his budget, which provides no raises for policemen.

Cavanagh, saying he got policemen a $1,000 salary increase last year, said he hopes

Rights Probers Eye Club Policy

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Civil Rights Commission said Wednesday it would investigate rental policies of private clubs, including the Detroit Women's City Club.

Mrs. Lenore Romney, wife of Gov. George Romney, quit the club last week because of charges that the club discriminates against Negroes.

She said she didn't know such a policy existed.

The commission authorized a review of such policies to see if they fall within the scope of Michigan's Public Accommodations Act.

The act requires equal treatment of all persons by anyone offering facilities or services to the public.

The Women's City Club's position came into issue when a Detroit women writers' group, which rents club facilities, asked whether the facilities would be extended if a Negro woman joined the group.

Colleen O'Brien of the Detroit Free press reported that the group was told that the club would not extend facilities to the group if the Negro joined.

A commission spokesman said the probe would not cover membership policies of the club, or any other private organization, because they are beyond the scope of Michigan's law.

It will be confined to policies of renting to the public, he said.

Dow Builds New Plant In Europe

MIDLAND (AP)—Dow Chemical Co. said Wednesday it will build a new polyethylene plant and a major naphtha cracker in The Netherlands.

The cracker will produce ethylene and other olefins and will have an annual capacity of 400,000 tons of ethylene, making it one of the largest in Europe, Dow announced.

The construction will be in Dow's European chemical complex at Terneuzen, The Netherlands, the firm said.

Dow said the major production unit for low density polyethylene will have an annual capacity of about 60,000 metric tons, enough to put Dow among the top producers of polyethylene in Europe.

THE SOO HILL SCHOOL of the Escanaba Area public schools will have two new classrooms and a multipurpose room when it opens for classes next fall. ## Impatient Bandit Is Easy To Please

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Barbara Chapman, 27, was at work as teller of a savings and loan office when an impatient bandit who was easy to please came in.

She dug for money as the holdup demanded, and he finally cut in: "Oh, hell — that's enough."

Later Donald M. Stutsman, 39, surrendered to police and was held on suspicion of staging the holdup. Police said $415 was taken in the robbery Wednesday.

Beef Cattle Are Opportunity For Ex-Dairymen

Only 22.6 per cent of the beef cattle fed in Michigan last year were native Michigan cattle. J. L. Heirman, Delta County agricultural agent, points to this as evidence that there are opportunities for beef cow herds in Michigan.

A study made by Dr. David L. Cole, Michigan State University on origin of cattle being fed in Michigan feed lots in 1966 showed that of 44,000 cattle, less than one-fourth originated in Michigan. Southwest and western United States provided more cattle in Michigan feed lots than Michigan calf raisers. And almost as many came from the southeast United States.

"Adequate pasture and limited housing facilities are needed for a cow-calf program," said Heirman. "Many farmers who have gone out of the dairy business have more than adequate facilities to handle a beef cow herd."

Heirman has free information on the opportunities and costs of establishing a herd in Michigan. "It is not a get rich quick program, but one that will provide a living," he says. "In many cases the beef cow-calf program can be a part of a total operation of a farm."

Meter Maids Abused; Seek Work In Pairs

NEW YORK (AP)—The ladies wear sensible oxfords, tuck their hair under visored caps, and carry their parking tickets in little leather pouches slung bandolier-style over their uniformed shoulders. Gently fondled at first, the city called them meter maids.

The idea was to bring the woman's touch to the job of lifting windshield wipers and snapping overtime parking tickets underneath.

Somewhere, though, public relations apparently went wrong and many New Yorkers began saying the women were arrogant and over-zealous.

Wednesday, the insults got to the meter maids. More than half the 200-woman squad stayed home, demanding that they be allowed to work in pairs. Their complaint was harassment not only from civilians but their supposed comrades in arms—the police.

"It's the public that is often antagonistic, abusive and takes liberties that it would not take with anyone else in uniform," one meter maid said. "Sometimes individual policemen are not too sympathetic either."

Hannah Clennons charged this week that a uniformed patrolman shoved her, scratched her hands, and tore up her summons book when he thought she was writing a summons for a motorist. The meter maid filed an assault complaint.

A week earlier, a meter maid charged that a driver beat her and broke her nose to the shouts of "Ole! Ole!" from an enthusiastic crowd in a Spanish-speaking neighborhood, but the allegation was thrown out of court.

The incidents, however, led to the wildcat strike and apparently a reassessment of the meter maids' worth by their boss, Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes. He said the city might just be better off without them and that the police could take over their jobs.

Negotiators for the city and the women reached a tentative agreement that pairs would be assigned to some heavy traffic areas, but the traffic department ruled out a city-wide buddy system as too expensive.

The compromise did not suit all the ladies and a number said they would continue not reporting for work.

Commented Barnes: "We would be better off to hire more policemen who can function better and more efficiently, since they carry guns and everything else."

Mental Health Board Planned

Formation of a board of directors for the Upper Peninsula Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health was discussed at a meeting in Marquette Tuesday.

Members of the chapter's executive committee agreed that an organization and orientation meeting of the board should be held the week of Oct. 30.

They also agreed that the board, which would be composed of at least three representatives from each county in the Upper Peninsula, should serve as a citizens organization that would become "an effective instrument in public policy and legislation" regarding mental illness.

Other major functions of the board as envisioned by the committee, would be concerned with public education, the role of the state hospitals, adequate budgets for personnel and adults.

Board members are to be appointed by Dr. James Miller, Kalanazoo, president of Western Michigan University, who also is president of the Michigan Society for Mental Health.

Ellwood Mattson, Marquette, president of the U.P. chapter, conducted Tuesday's meeting.

Among those attending the meeting were Harold Webster, Detroit, executive director of the state society, and James Kipfer, also of Detroit, associate director.

Executive committee members present included John Hicks, Marquette; Ambrose Kiestler, Marquette; Raymond Gangstad, Escanaba; Ronald Calery, Sault Ste. Marie; Matt Howie, Sault Ste. Marie; Howard Lamb, Marquette; Mrs. Thomas Mudge, Marquette; Mrs. Harry Koenig, Ishpeming; Mrs. Louis Rosenbaum, Ishpeming, and Edwin Wuehle, Manistique.

Week Minute Man citation to Charles Folio, University of Michigan Extension director in the Upper Peninsula, "for outstanding service to Michigan" at a House of Ludington luncheon Wednesday honoring persons who have made major contributions to economic development in Delta County in the past year. ### Our Livelihood Day Marked

Industrial Development Friends Honored Here

David Farrand, industrial development specialist of UP-CAP, works all year trying to create industrial payrolls. Wednesday was Our Livelihood Day of Michigan Week and Delta County Chairman James Damitz named Farrand in charge of the day's observance.

Farrand served in the same capacity a year ago and organized a luncheon of industrialists and businessmen at Marco's to mark the day. This week he personally hosted a luncheon at the House of Ludington at which he saluted newcomer businessmen in Delta County and thanked the bankers and other industrial developers who had helped UP-CAP's promotional efforts.

Rock Industry
The occasion also honored Charles Folio of Escanaba, University of Michigan Extension director in the Upper Peninsula and chairman of the Human Resources Committee of UP-CAP. Folio was cited as a Michigan Week Minute Man on nomination of Operation Action-U.P. for outstanding service to Michigan in championing our great state.

Farrand hailed as Delta's newest industry the K & K Manufacturing Co. of Rock, organized by Clayton Kanerva and Robert Koski, who created a welding and metal finishing shop at Rock which held a public open house on May 11. "I commend their tremendous ingenuity and courage in getting things done," said Farrand.

"I am personally indebted to you all for helping me with Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, said that the citation for service to the Upper Peninsula by Charles Folio was well earned by a distinguished record of public leadership in a period in which education has assumed a huge new importance in the economy.

"Charles Folio," said Worth has been a school teacher, member of the Escanaba Board of Education, is a trustee of Bay de Noc Community College and of the State Historical Society; a director of the Escanaba Rotary Club, vice president of the U. P. Arts & Crafts Council, a member of the Escanaba Library Board. He served as our delegate to the Constitutional Convention and in literally hundreds of other useful activities.

Senate Showdown On Tax Is Delayed

litigation should become a vote issue.

Some supporters of the tax package that cleared the Senate and is now in the House claim this could kill the bundle of new tax bills.

Agree To Voting

In an effort to attract Democratic votes, the Republican-dominated Senate Tax Committee agreed to allow the issue of a graduated income tax to go on the ballot.

The Senate, as part of the agreement, passed a resolution allowing a vote in November, 1968, on allowing the graduated tax, now forbidden by the State Constitution.

Democrats say a tax on a sliding scale—less for low income families and more for the prosperous—would be fairer than a straight 2 1/2 percent income tax now in the package.

A five per cent limit would cancel out a graduated income tax, the Democrats contend.

Morals Charges Follow Shooting Death At Motel

CHARLEVOIX (AP)—Franklyn W. Smith, 52, is free on bond to await circuit court arraignment on morals charges following a fatal shooting Feb. 27 at a motel he operated.

Smith was bound over after examination before Justice John Connolly on charges of gross indecency and making and publishing a pornographic tape recording. The indecency complaint was filed by Smith's 16-year-old son. The recording complaint was filed by Abraham Yell Jr., of Petoskey, whose daughter, Virginia, 20, was wounded by a rifle shot outside Smith's motel. Virginia and Smith were wounded in a shooting incident at the motel which claimed the life of Connie Nichols, 20, a companion of Miss Yell. A teenage youth who authorities said fired the shots was referred to probate court.

Voters League In Convention

Two members of the League of Women Voters of Escanaba are attending the 10th biennial convention of the state League in Traverse City this week. Mrs. William Taylor, president, and Mrs. Walter Kulik, state item chairman, are Escanaba's delegates.

Principal speaker of the convention is Edward L. Cushman, executive vice president of Wayne State University and former vice president of American Motors whose topic is "The Quadruple Revolution." He will speak on the responsibilities of various levels of government. Cushman has served at many levels of government, and is presently Chairman of the Detroit City Commission on Community Relations.

Business of the convention will include the adoption of a budget, election of officers, and selection of a state program for the next two years.

The Escanaba League has been studying public welfare, the state League study item for the past four years. Emphasis during the past year has been on children's services available, the unmet needs, and recommended solutions. This week delegates will consider the adoption of a study based on an analysis and evaluation of the financing of public education in Michigan through grade 12.

Other positions supported by the Michigan League of Women Voters, based on past studies, are tax reform, flexible implementing legislation for county home rule, equal employment opportunity, and improvements in public assistance and children's services.

Everyone enjoys a good time and 4-H Club work provides the opportunity for a good time right along with a lot of learning, points out Arthur Vasold, Extension 4-H Youth Agent in Delta and Schoolcraft counties.

4-H leaders from Delta County will attend a two-day workshop for music leaders and county recreation chairmen at the Pine Mountain Lodge in Iron Mountain today and tomorrow.

Consult Social Security Before Reaching Age 65

With medicare a part of the social security retirement picture, it is more important than ever for people approaching to visit the social security office well before they arrive at that milestone birthday.

Before medicare said Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager, a person just naturally waited to find out about his social security retirement benefits until he was on the point of retiring. If he delayed a month or two, there was no particular problem because his retirement benefits could be paid retroactively for up to 12 months.

But now, every person nearing age 65 must decide whether he wants the doctor bill insurance part of medicare. This medical insurance protection is not retroactive and an elderly person must sign up in one of the three months before his 65th birthday in order to be covered as soon as he reaches 65.

Potato Varieties Tested In Delta

By JOSEPH L. HEIRMAN
Five different varieties of potatoes are being tried out on the Albert Lippens farm in the Bark River area. The demonstration plot was planted to determine what results can be obtained with varieties from various areas.

Two varieties, Platte and Hi-Plains, come from Nebraska. LaChippier from Louisiana. Superior from Wisconsin and Ona from Beltsville, Maryland. These varieties will be compared to Sebago, a variety established here for many years.

Some persons may wonder why we are still working with potato varieties when we have pretty much established the Burbank Russet as the variety to grow here. There are always exceptions and a blanket recommendation cannot be made for every grower in the county.

There are certain growing practices that must be met to grow Burbanks. The most important one is a good sandy-loam soil with plenty of water to irrigate when needed. Some potato growers are not near streams for a source of water and feel they cannot afford drilling a well to supply adequate water for irrigating.

It is these growers that we have in mind when looking for new possible varieties. We also wish to check out certain varieties for specific uses. If a grower wants to supply a chip market it takes a different variety of potato. Two of the varieties in the demonstration plot are supposed to have chipping qualities. We will see if these chipping qualities stay with the variety when grown under different soil and weather conditions.

Yield per acre and the percentage of U. S. No. 1 grade is also important. All varieties are getting the same treatment so yield comparisons can be made as well as grade. We have tried out many varieties over the past years. Many of them came to us with promising reports only to find that most of them cannot compete with some of the old reliable varieties. Constant trial however, will some day pay off with a satisfactory variety for several growers.

Soo Locks Given Historic Status

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The Soo Locks will be designated a National Historic Monument during a ceremony Friday, C. A. Aune, U. S. Corps of Engineers area engineer said Wednesday.

Aune said the historic monument status was given the locks as a result of an application to the Department of the Interior some time ago, outlining their historic impact on the nation's waterways commerce and substantially affecting the economy of the entire country.

Department of Interior officials are expected to attend together with Lt. Col. Henry Mattern, deputy district engineer, Detroit District, U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Army Defector, Son, In Havana

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A reconstruction of Maj. Richard H. Pearce's flight to Cuba shows he apparently cruised across the Florida Straits at wavetop level to avoid U.S. radar, then broadcast an "any stations" radio message to alert Cuban defenses to his arrival.

"Any station. This is M8546J." Pearce broadcast on a routine aviation frequency when he got within sight of Cuba.

The call was answered by a Coast Guard plane on picket duty over the straits. "Disregard," said Pearce. That was the last heard from him or his 4-year-old son, Richard Jr., whom he took to Communist Cuba with him.

Havana Radio said Wednesday "the revolutionary government decided to concede asylum to the major of the United States Army, Richard Harwood Pearce, or the facilities appropriate to go to another country, according to his request."

A note over Pearce's signature in the Communist party newspaper "Granma" said, "I have decided to part from my country in the company of my son, for reasons of conscience."

Coughlin Again In Controversy

DETROIT (AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, famed radio priest of the 1930s, stepped back into Detroit Wednesday just in time for a familiar routine: name-calling controversy.

Father Coughlin's old parish was marked for a silent sit-in tonight to protest a charge that the priest was "one of the most vitriolic hateranglers of the 20th Century."

Asked by newsmen about the charge, Father Coughlin said his accuser, a Michigan Civil Rights Commission official, was "an inexperienced young man who has been brainwashed."

Burton Levy, director of the commission's community services division, made the remark a week ago at a Catholic-sponsored interracial education program, Project Commitment.

His statement came in response to a question about what clergymen could do by becoming involved in worldly affairs.

Despite protests from Coughlin's parish in suburban Royal Oak, Levy stood by his description of the priest who some 30 years ago tackled innumerable worldly issues in his radio broadcasts from Detroit.

Father James L. Hayes, pastor of the parish now, and Monsignor Arthur L. Vallade, chancellor of the archdiocese which sponsored the meeting, apologized for Levy's remark.

But Michael Laurencelle, a Royal Oak realtor and member

Bridge Repair Fight Continues

MENOMINEE — The dispute over the Menominee drawbridge between Menominee and Marinette continued today with Menominee proceeding with repairs and Marinette adamant in its decision not to repair its half.

Marinette Mayor Edward Woleske said Wednesday the bridge would not be reopened and that a new bridge must be constructed.

Menominee Mayor Edward Reindl said the bridge must be reopened as soon as possible and that the existing bridge can and should be repaired.

Relying on an opinion from Ernie Miancke, general manager of Green Bay Structural Steel, Inc., who said the type of repair needed to the bridge does not appear to be economically justified, Woleske said, "If our end can't pass safety tests, one-half bridge is going to be of no use to Menominee. I kept telling Menominee not to rebuild."

Reindl said opinions from Michigan and Wisconsin highway department bridge engineers indicate the bridge is safe if held within speed and weight limits.

"The bridge is a necessity and its got to be reopened," he said.

Senator Beebe Asks Study On Women's Prison

LANSING (AP)—The only woman member of the Michigan Senate called Wednesday for a study to determine if Michigan needs a separate reformatory for women prisoners.

Sen. Lorraine Beebe, R-Deerborn, introduced a resolution to create a committee to study her proposal. She suggested a $5,000 appropriation to finance the study.

"Michigan does not now have a state reformatory or a state prison for women," Mrs. Beebe said. "It uses the facilities of the Detroit House of Correction, which also is used for men."

"I feel there is a growing concern over the need for a separate state reformatory for women."

Jobless Comp Extension KO'd

LANSING (AP)—The bill to eliminate the one-week wait for unemployment compensation, similar to one Gov. George Romney vetoed last year, was voted down Wednesday in the House Labor Committee.

But committee chairman Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, and ranking Democrat James Bradley of Detroit said they hoped a compromise still could be reached.

Chief beneficiaries of the measure would be the state's 740,000 Unemployed Auto Workers Union members, many of whom are laid off during model changeover each year.

The Democratic committee members and Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak, voted against reporting the bill to the floor. Swallow said while other Republicans voted for it.

The key issue, he said, was a complicated one involving supplemental unemployment benefits in UAW contracts.

Under current law, a man laid off and later rehired by the same employer is not eligible to be compensated for the first week of his unemployment. The bill, as passed by the Senate,

Citizens Advisory Committee In Meeting Tonight

The Escanaba Citizens Advisory Committee will meet at 7:30 tonight in the State Office Building.

Robert Mosenfelder, chairman, said the principal matter of business will be the presentation of a housing plan for senior citizens, prepared by the Public Housing Committee.

It is anticipated that after discussion the Advisory Committee will recommend the plan to the City Council.

Mosenfelder asked that all members of the Advisory Committee be present to participate in the important discussion and action session tonight.

would abolish that exemption. Amendments proposed by Democratic members of the House committee would require employers also to pay an extra week's worth of supplemental unemployment benefits.

UAW contracts provide that, in any week in which unemployment compensation is paid, the employer will add to that enough to total two-thirds of the worker's weekly wage.

Record In War: 337 Americans Die Last Week

American and allied forces involved.

The joint Marine and South Vietnamese invasion of the southern half of the demilitarized zone, begun last Thursday, had been precipitated by increased casualties caused by Red guns and mortars firing from the buffer area. The week's casualty figure included the first three days of the invasion — when allied casualties were severe.

More heavy air raids over North Vietnam and occasionally sharp ground fighting in South Vietnam were reported by the U.S. Command today.

In the highlands southwest of Pleiku, a company of the 4th Infantry Division was hit by a North Vietnamese unit of unknown size in a sharp hour and a half battle Wednesday. The Communists poured in a mortar barrage and about 70 rockets and the Americans replied with air attacks and artillery. When it was over, there were 35 North Vietnamese dead, five Americans killed and 14 wounded.

Local BPW Delegates Attend Convention

At their regular dinner meeting Tuesday evening, members of Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club heard reports on the Michigan Federation BPW convention held in Detroit last weekend at the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Attending from Escanaba were President, Elsie Anderson, Alice Kvam, Lou Morin and Pearl Witte.

The theme of the convention was, "Advance Through Action," and the 832 delegates advised by National Membership Chairman, Osta Underwood to be "doers" and not "observers." She stated that BPW has been the spearhead for every one of the equal pay bills that have ever been passed in any of the states. BPW objectives and programs not only elevate the standards of the organization but of all business and professional women in this country.

Special Award
Escanaba's membership chairman, Pearl Witte, received special recognition at the convention as the only member in the state to have been awarded three gold membership cards and she will also be honored at the national convention to be held in New York City in July. It was announced that Michigan BPW clubs now have a total membership of 5,685 with the national total at 177,057.

Guest speaker at the Saturday night banquet was Dr. Nicholas Nyardi whose subject was "Free Enterprise or Disaster." A former minister of finance and an attorney in his native Hungary, Dr. Nyardi spent seven months in Moscow at the close of World War II. He and his wife had to flee Hungary when the Reds took over and they came to the United States in 1948.

He is now an American citizen and resides in Peoria, Ill., where he is a professor of economics at Bradley University. Dr. Nyardi, who travels considerably to keep up on world affairs, has written several articles on Russia and a book, "My Ring Side Seat in Moscow." Before all else, he told his listeners, we have to be Americans and we must consider the danger that never before in our history are our American people so confused and so divided over major issues. "We do not want to destroy the aggressor," Dr. Nyardi stated, "we just want to give him a spanking and we don't trust our military leaders to fight the war in Viet Nam but circle our certain targets which they are permitted to hit."

Limited War
We ourselves have established a pattern of unlimited and continued non-aggression but we are now involved in our fourth limited war. Dr. Nyardi stated the war in Viet Nam is definitely unlimited in its financial cost and it is definitely not limited for those American boys whose flag draped caskets are brought home.

Government controls and government restrictions are here to stay, he said. "Americans are aware of what is happening to the people of Russia and Hungary," he said, "but they are convinced that such a terrible thing can never happen to them." "If we want to survive," Dr. Nyardi stated, "we have to become strong pro-American and he feels that what we need is to love and appreciate our heritage more and our own ideals which we take so for granted." Theresa Staal of Grand Rapids was elected as the new president of the Michigan Federation of BPW Clubs with Madeline Vick as vice-president. Sandra Braden, president of the Lansing BPW Club, was voted the outstanding young career woman for Michigan and will represent the state at the national convention.

MANISTIQUE Wilderness Plan For Seney Told

Inclusion of 19,150 acres of land in the northwest part of Seney National Wildlife Refuge in the National Wilderness Preservation system will not affect revenue-sharing of the Refuge with local units of government.

If income from visitors or other Refuge uses in the future are greater than the 3 1/2 per cent of the land value now paid to the local governments, these will receive the larger amount, John Hapala, manager of the Refuge said Monday at a meeting of the Schoolcraft Board of Supervisors.

Unique string bogs are included in part of the wilderness area, and some virgin pine. The acreage proposed for the wilderness area would continue to be used as at present, except for a ban on camping in deer hunting season, used to a small extent previously.

The Refuge will recommend timber harvest management for the 12,008 acres of wooded area included in the proposed wilderness section, Hapala said.

A hearing to include the area in the wilderness designation, along with Huron Islands off the Huron Mountains, in Lake Superior, was held in Marquette May 10. Information relative to the study is being received until June 1.

In other action Monday the Schoolcraft Board named Leonard Walters, Agner Dehlin, and Lial Lake to study plans for county beautification and relationship of blight control.

The annual student government day activities were included in the board's agenda Monday. Students met at the courthouse for talks on government in the morning and afternoon, serving in capacities to which they were elected at school. A noon luncheon was held at the Surf.

Dowagiac Youth Pleads Guilty To Bank Robbery

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Jimmie James Cole, 20, of Dowagiac, pleaded guilty Wednesday before Federal District Judge Noel P. Fox to two counts of bank robbery in the April 2 burglary of the Community State Bank of Dowagiac. Cole was held in lieu of $5,000 bond to await sentencing.

Dowagiac police said a bank audit showed $696.80 was missing from tellers cages. Entry to the bank was gained by smashing the glass in a rear door. The bank vault had not been entered, police said. Cole was arrested in Florida by federal authorities April 12.

James Cekala, 18, of Atlantic City, N.J., pleaded guilty to a charge of transporting a stolen car May 10 from Miami, Fla., to Berrien County, Michigan. He was held in lieu of $2,000 bond to await sentencing.

Marquette Gets Forest Fire Warning Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—A primary fire weather office will be established at Marquette, Mich., the Environmental Science Services Administration said Wednesday.

The office is part of a nationwide expansion of the weather service to warn of forest and range fire dangers. A limited warning service already exists in some major forest areas of the nation.

ESSA, a division of the Commerce Department, said 120,000 fires each year between 1960 and 1964 destroyed 4.6 million acres of forest land at a loss of $500 million.

State Bank Moving To Fine New Building

Service And Convenience Are 'Built-In' Features

The State Bank of Escanaba is moving forward as it moves into a new banking facility that combines all of the conveniences and services to be found in Michigan's finest banks.

"Move-in" day is Saturday this week and the State Bank will be open for business in the new building at 1st Ave. N. and 11th St. on Monday, May 29.

The ribbon will be cut and the doors swung wide on Thursday, June 1, at 9:15 a. m. to start the grand opening festivities for the new main office. The American Legion Honor Guard will present the colors and the Escanaba Area High School Band will play the national anthem at the flag raising ceremony.

The new bank building has two drive-up windows approached from 1st Ave. N. and exited on 11th St. Both drive-up windows are covered so the customer may bank in perfect comfort from their car regardless of the weather. For those having business in the bank there is a large blacktopped area adjacent to the bank on the east and north. The bank may be entered from either 11th St. or the parking lot.

The exterior of the bank is a completely modern combination of charcoal face brick, aluminum and glass with white porcelain trim. Landscaped to accent the modern look, low plantings surrounded by white crushed stone extend across the front of the building. There is also a well lighted 24 hour depository in the southwest corner of the building.

Inside the bank the atmosphere is open, bright and friendly amid cool shades and hues of blue and green enriched by the suede finished walnut paneling. Brightly lighted by recessed fluorescent light panels and carpeted throughout, the bank has the feeling of a friends home rather than a place of business.

Quiet, Efficient

Six teller areas on the north side of the main banking level will assure the customer of fast and confidential service. The northwest corner of the building is the vault and safe deposit area with private coupon booths and a larger room to accommodate a group examining safe deposit contents.

The officer's area is on the south side of the lobby with open and private desk space along with conference rooms. The loan officer, teller and loan conference room is in the southwest corner of the main floor.

Situated on the lower level is a large bookkeeping department which means there is no bothersome noise on the main banking floor from bookkeeping equipment. These two levels are serviced by a records elevator to assure immediate communication between the two departments. The lower level also includes an employee lounge with complete kitchen facilities. On this level there is also a records vault and the control room for the heating, air conditioning and dial phone systems. Constant temperature is maintained by the tri-zonal, oil fired heating - air conditioning unit.

Public Invited

"Everything about the new building," said Forrest Henslee, executive vice president, "is designed to give the finest and most completely, convenient banking service to everyone in the area. Visitors to the bank will see the very newest in bank equipment available today."

"We have planned a festive grand opening and want everyone to participate, but more important, we hope everyone will stop by, have some refreshments and say hello to their new bank."

Joining Henslee in the invitation to the public are the Bank's officers and directors:

Charles W. Stoll, president; Dr. Harold Q. Groos, vice president; Arthur Arch, cashier; Henry Dubbele, Louise Roberge and Raymond Sundquist, assistant cashiers; Dale Heidenreich, auditor; and Directors Stoll, Dr. Groos, John A. Lemmer, Arthur Goulet, C. Gust Peterson, John Walsh, Carl Wickman and the late John Fawcett.

Began In 1904
Planning for the new State Bank of Escanaba began several years ago. The area was purchased and five dwellings were removed. Ground was broken on June 1, 1966.

The building was planned by the Etl Co., Toledo, Ohio, bank building specialists, and the architects are Nickerson & Ross, Toledo. The construction work was done by local firms under the supervision of the Etl Co.

One of the public service fixtures of the State Bank at the "old" building at 1108 Ludington is the time and temperature sign. This is being moved to the Penney Store building so the service will continue. There will be an extension of the time and temperature information to the State Bank interior.

The Citizens Bank, a private business that opened about 1902, was the forerunner of the State Bank of Escanaba. In 1904 the Citizens Bank was reorganized as the State Savings Bank, and this institution became the State Bank of Escanaba on Jan. 11, 1944. The Bank occupied the building at 1108 Ludington since 1914.

Call McLouth To Rights Hearing

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Civil Rights Commission charged Wednesday that McLouth Steel Corp. refused to hire one person and People's Community Hospital Authority in Wayne fired another because they were Negroes.

Hearings were ordered on the claims, but no dates were set.

The commission said McLouth refused to employ Clinton Richmond, a Negro, in a vacant mail position. The civil rights group also said the hospital authority dismissed Mrs. Earleen Burrell, a Negro, because of her race or color.

THE NEW HOME of the State Bank of Escanaba at 1st Ave. N. and 11th St. has built-in features of service and convenience found only in modern banking facilities such as this. The attractive charcoal brick exterior has an equally inviting appeal for practical people who want their bank to have: Drive-up windows, ample parking, and superior safety deposit service.

THE FRIENDLY ATMOSPHERE of the State Bank of Escanaba is expressed in the bright yet muted coloring of the interior of the new bank building. There is an open look that's a far departure from the old-fashioned bank, yet careful design provides fast and confidential service for the customer.

Golfers Object To Putter Rule

Bark River Schedule Driver

Students of the Bark River-Honoring High School will start a three-day driver education course Monday, May 29. The Bark River will be the instructor.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mixed reactions followed proposals today for a worldwide uniform golf code that, among other things, would outlaw the croquet ball and limit the number of times a ball may be cleaned on the green.

"It's ridiculous," said Jack Nicklaus, the reigning British Open champion, concerning the proposal that a player's line the ball on another's putting green. "Why don't they just let us put the ball in and play it?"

Many of the touring pros at the Oklahoma City open agreed with Nicklaus. "It's the last straw," said B. J. Shave, Jr., whose crotchety defense of the old rules is well known.

Chuck Rota said he was not in one eye and couldn't see the ball. "That's conventional style of putting," he said, "and we're trying to stop the ball from being picked up and cleaned."

Only Good Words Ever Said About Mosquitoes

By LEE SMITS

It was no day for ducks. Bright sun, dead calm, warm, humid. In a blind at the edge of a pond in the Mississippi delta the hunter from Michigan was assailed by a cloud of mosquitoes. There are numerous species of mosquitoes and these were new to the guy from Michigan.

They were snailish, and they raised bright red spots that smarted. It looked like a ruined day; in fact, the whole trip began to seem foolish, when the Michigan visitor found on the bottom of his old shell box a flat tin container labelled Lolicap (spelling by ear). This was the standard insect repellent in grandpa's day. Heavy grease impregnated with oil of citronella. Smearing with dope, the hunter comfortably filled out the old-time limit on mallard, then returned to the houseboat headquarters where he found his companions loudly denouncing mosquitoes.

There was n't enough of the old-time fly dope to go around so the hunter mixed up a mess of Lolicap and kerosene. Men spudding turbarik from hemlock logs worked in an atmosphere containing a high percentage of mosquitoes. Their fly dope had to be compounded with care. An excess of kero-ene would blister the hide of the toughest woodsman.

**★ ★ ★
The only defense of flies and mosquitoes I ever heard was proffered by a fine old Ottawa Indian, John Joseph, who lived on Sugar Island below the Soo. John explained that the Master of Life had arranged to have the woods swarm with biting bugs at the season when young animals were just entering upon the struggle to stay alive. John said that flies and mosquitoes tended to discourage men from preying on wildlife at this critical stage.

A PENSIVE MOOD stalks the face of one of the hundreds of young girls in the United States. The shingle-shaped youngster poses for $120 a month to fashion magazines and ads during her six-week stay.

Far-flung expeditions of United States military forces have inspired the development of highly sophisticated insect repellents, now available to the general public. These potent preparations have one drawback: they erode plastics such as eyeglass frames, items of fishing gear, workers' protective helmets.

The outdoorsman would do well to carry bottles and sprays of the modern repellants any time he ventures afield. However, in the absence of a commercial insecticide (a word discovered in the dictionary definition of citronella) adequate protection can be had by smearing exposed skin with bacon grease or gun oil.

A woodsman's hatred of flying pests is concentrated on the mosquito. Mosquitoes carry on their assaults day and night, whereas blackflies and no-see-ums halt operations after dark. Blackflies inject slow poison. On a woodland path you will see lady birdwatchers with blood-streaked faces, blithely unaware that next day there will be swollen lumps, burning, itching and, with some victims, fever.

It is true that continuous exposure will produce relative immunity to insect venom. A Michigan old-timer can permit a flock of mosquitoes to feast on the back of his hand and when they are all through no mark is visible. However, there are so many species of these miseful bug that a painfully acquired immunity might be of no avail in another country.

Michigan had been fortunate in freedom from ground-dwelling pests such as chiggers and ticks, although in recent years these animals have moved in from the south. Wenter's says of the chigger that it is "of African origin".

POTATO CRISP PATRON

LONDON (AP)—The patronage of the Church of England of All Saints, Nocton in Leicestershire, is possibly the only one held by a commercial firm—Smith's Potato Crisps. The company bought 8,000 acres of land around Nocton 30 years ago and the patronage of All Saints came with it. This gave the board the right to nominate a vicar and put his name before the Bishop of Lincoln. "The church conducts its own affairs but we take a fatherly interest and support it in any way we can," said managing director Ronald Baker. Usual patron is a bishop, the Queen or some local squire.

So you'll get to be President of U.S. Copper two years later.

What's your hurry? You've got a whole lifetime ahead of you.

Plenty of time to work and make money and own a house and belong to a club and buy insurance and be a big success or a small success or not and have a cardiogram once a year and cut out polyunsaturated fats while you're trying to nurse an ulcer and watch your chest sink slowly into your belly and do the rest of the kind of things that most people end up doing even if they don't plan on it.

What's your hurry? You're only young once. And that once is now. And now is the time, probably the only time you'll have a chance to do something you don't have to do. Something out of the pattern.

Something far and on your own and away from the person you are and the life you've lived. Something full of doing things maybe you never would have or could have done unless you had to. Something full of seeing things you never would have seen unless you stood there. Something like joining the Peace Corps.

What's your hurry? You know every-thing you want to do will still be here to do in a couple of years. The only thing you don't know is what a couple of years in the Peace Corps will do for you.

Maybe it'll help you get to be President of U.S. Copper faster. Maybe when you get there it'll help you be better. Or maybe it'll help you find out you don't want to be President of U.S. Copper at all.

One Man Dies In Crash; But Train Avoids Crackup

MATTAWAN (AP)—One man was killed and a possible major tragedy narrowly averted in a spectacular crash of a truck from a freeway overpass Wednesday.

State Police said Charles Vern Stoddard, 50, of Wayland, died when he was thrown from a huge tank truck which plowed off the overpass and fell 45 feet onto railroad tracks.

An eight-car New York Central Railroad passenger train, with 70 persons on board, was stopped just 30 seconds before it passed the last signal before reaching the wreckage.

Stoddard was driving west on I 94 when the left front tire blew out on his truck, a double-trailer loaded with low-grade oil.

The truck banged into a guard rail, glanced off an abutment and headed toward the outer rail as Stoddard fought to halt the truck, police said.

The driver apparently stopped the cab, but the trailers cartwheeled over him and beyond the edge of the railing, yanking the cab with them, and crashed 45 feet down a steep embankment, piling up on the tracks below.

The tanks burst open but the oil did not burn.

A quick-thinking passerby telephoned the railroad control tower and warned them that the truck was on the tracks.

"He didn't even give his name he was so shook up," said Paul Jones, tower operator, after the train was halted at the signal six miles from the wreckage.

State Police said if the call had been 30 seconds later, the train would have passed the last signal between it and the truck.

The train would have been going 80 miles an hour when it reached the scene of the crash, railroad officials said.

Clearing the truck from the tracks delayed the train an hour and 20 minutes.

Student March Protests MSU Tuition Raise

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University students, upset by reports that MSU may increase tuition because of Gov. George Romney's austerity budget, were to march on the Capitol in protest today.

Sherri Terbellio, 19, of Detroit, spokesman for a student group, said a rally would be held on the university campus, then students would march the five miles to the Capitol.

About 1,000 students have signed petitions opposing Romney's budget proposals which provide $42.9 million for MSU—15 per cent less than the university officials requested.

A faculty committee named by MSU Trustees said the university needs another $3 million to $3.5 million to operate this year on its current basis.

The only possible source of the extra funds is a tuition increase would add $81 to the $354 Michigan resident students pay and the $1,020 Michigan nonresidents pay.

"We do not want to pay another $81 for our tuition because the state refused to live up to its educational responsibility to its citizens," the petition said.

Romney said he had to keep the budget tight because the state treasury's supply of money was being spent for essential services faster than new revenue was being collected.

The austerity must continue, he said, so long as there is doubt about whether the Legislature will approve his tax reform program, which includes bills to set up a state income tax.

The tax is needed, Romney said, to supply enough money to allow for a bigger budget.

Catherine Bonifas' Bequests Changed Delta

John A. Lemmer, former Escanaba school superintendent, was executor of the Catherine Bonifas Estate, which created more benefactions for Escanaba and the Delta County area than the gifts of any other single person in local history. The Escanaba Daily Press asked John Lemmer to review Mrs. Bonifas' benefactions, which have changed the face of the community and immensely enriched it in municipal governmental, educational, cultural and religious facilities.

It is regrettable to note that despite benefactions of much more than a million dollars, there is no major memorial to Mrs. Bonifas in the community which bears her name.

By JOHN A. LEMMER

Mrs. William Bonifas, nee Catherine Nolan, was born in County Carlow, Ireland, May 15, 1868, and migrated to the United States in May, 1888.

She went to Garden, Delta County, working as a "hired girl" in the boarding-house there for $2.50 a week. Garden was then a center of logging activity and it was there she met William ("Big Bill") Bonifas, one of four brothers born in Luxembourg, Europe, who worked in the woods as lumberjacks.

William Bonifas and Catherine Nolan were married in St. John's Catholic Church in Garden, in the church which still stands there.

William Bonifas passed away in his home at 750 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, on Nov. 24, 1936; Mrs. Bonifas on May 25, 1948.

Humble Person

Catherine Bonifas was a humble person. During her years as a young married woman in Garden she often worked in her kitchen until two or three o'clock in the morning baking bread and ham and beans so that the crew could be fed the next day. It was she who got the breakfast at day-break.

Both William and Catherine Bonifas believed in hard work and they practiced what they believed. William and his brothers started for the woods early in the morning. In winter they put their sandwiches under the blankets on the horse so that they would be soft enough to eat at lunch-time. They worked from daybreak until dark and finally William had saved enough money to buy a team of horses. When one horse died William hitched himself to the other horse so that the logs could be hauled.

Creates Town

When logging in the Garden area diminished Mr. Bonifas started operations near Watersmeet, Mich., and opened the town of Bonifas. After several years Mr. and Mrs. Bonifas purchased and enlarged the home at 750 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, and this was their home until their deaths.

The Bonifas fortune began with hard work in logging operations. Before the move to Bonifas, Mr. Bonifas met Frank J. Sensenbrenner, then vice president and general manager of Kimberly-Clark Corp. Kimberly-Clark needed pulpwood for manufacturing paper and Mr. Bonifas was in a position to supply it. He also met one or more of the Fisher Brothers of Fisher Body which was then making bodies for General Motors automobiles out of wood and Fisher Body needed wood.

Friendship with these men developed. Stock was acquired in both of these corporations when prices were low. Stock dividends were declared. International Cellulose was formed by Kimberly-Clark. The Bonifas wealth grew along with the growth of the corporations.

In addition to the stock in William's name Catherine Bonifas was the owner of 42,696 shares of Kimberly-Clark common stock, 5,913 shares of K-C preferred, 4,695 shares of General Motors common, plus some other holdings.

MRS. CATHERINE BONIFAS as she appeared while the Bonifases still were living at Garden Bay, before their moving to Escanaba.

He Gave Church

The purpose of this paper is to record the many charitable contributions of Catherine Bonifas. St. Joseph's Church and the William Bonifas Auditorium and Gymnasium stand as a memorial to her husband and were his gift to the parish made during his lifetime.

Mrs. Bonifas was a devout Catholic and throughout the years made many contributions to Catholic charities, missions and colleges. Pope Pius XI honored her with the award "La Croce Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice" in December, 1938. The award was signed by E. Cardinal Pacelli who became Pope Pius XII.

First Gift

Her first gift to her home community that was made public after long objection by her occurred in 1942 when she gave the Escanaba School District $38,300. In 1946 she turned over to the Board of Education 200 shares of Northwest Utilities preferred stock. These were exchanged for 2,300 shares of Wisconsin Power & Light common which were sold for $44,316.76.

This gift originally was for the construction of a swimming pool and the enlargement of the Junior High School gymnasium. However, property owners in the neighborhood objected, and by the time any possible agreement could have been reached, costs had gone up so much that the project was abandoned. With Mrs. Bonifas' approval the technical school was established and then named for her.

Living Trust

The cost of the technical school was considerably less than the money received so the Board set up the Catherine Bonifas Intervivos Trust, a trust made between living persons.

Much of the shop equipment in the Catherine Bonifas Technical School was federal surplus and was purchased for $10.

Retreat Center

In 1947 Mrs. Bonifas purchased the old LaMotte "Cancer Hospital" in Garden with the thought that it would be converted into a school with classrooms for religious instruction and a convent for the nuns who served the Catholic people in Garden as instructors of religion.

This project developed into what is now the Marygrove Retreat House, an extremely successful and appreciated activity of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette. Mrs. Bonifas' gifts for this project totaled $111,693.37.

Later in 1947, in October, Mrs. Bonifas decided to build a cemetery chapel. St. Anne's and St. Joseph's cemeteries were combined to form Holy Cross Cemetery for all of the Catholic parishes. The beautiful chapel of Kasota stone, marble and art glass windows cost $61,524. Catherine Bonifas was the first person buried from the chapel.

Not Mandatory

Catherine Bonifas had provided well for her relatives in Ireland with annuities purchased in 1937. Her will, dated January 12, 1948, left an estate with assets amounting to $2,592,353.73, and provided that any surplus beyond the specific bequests be divided equally among the Catholic Diocese of Marquette, the Escanaba School District and the City of Escanaba. The surplus was 2.3 per cent, amounting to $35,336.90. The will did not make it mandatory for the legatees to expend the bequests for the projects mentioned and it must be noted that the legatees carried out the intent and wishes of Mrs. Bonifas.

It is also evident that the legatees were successful in doing much more than was originally considered possible because of good judgment that resulted in an appreciable increase in the estate's value.

Church Bequests

The will of Catherine Bonifas contained bequests of $805,000 increased by $11,788.97, one-third of the surplus, to the Catholic Bishop of Marquette for the following purposes:

$600,000 toward the construction of a Catholic Central High School in Escanaba.

$50,000, the income from which is to be used for the maintenance of buildings belonging to St. Joseph's parish in Escanaba.

$5,000 for perpetual care and maintenance of the William Bonifas mausoleum in Holy Cross Cemetery.

$100,000 toward the construction of a home for senior citizens in Escanaba. This was the start for the Bishop Noa Home.

$50,000 toward the construction of a church for St. Michael's Parish, Marquette.

Liked Garden

In addition to the above, Mrs. Bonifas bequeathed to other Catholic organizations as follows: St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba, $25,000; Escanaba Council, Knights of Columbus, $50,000; Marquette University, Milwaukee, $250,000; St. Norbert's College, DePere, Wis., $50,000.

Because of the many happy years Mrs. Bonifas had spent in Garden she wished to repay that community in some way and her first thought was to build a new Catholic Church. St. John's, however, was found to have been well-maintained so she considered building a Catholic school since the community is largely Catholic. Her decision was to provide the money for a public school to take care of all of the children and also because the public school was in a deplorable condition. $150,000 was given to the Michigan State Board of Education which was given and accepted the responsibility of erecting the construction of the school which now stands in Garden as the Catherine Bonifas Elementary School.

$1.1 Million

The School District of the City of Escanaba was bequeathed $820,000. This amount was also increased by $11,788.97. Not many boards of education have the problem and responsibility of investing more than three-quarters of a million dollars and the Escanaba Board wisely decided to make use of specialists in the field of investment.

Five bank and trust companies were considered and Harris Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago was chosen. The selection proved a good one and the Catherine Bonifas Trust Fund reached the total of $1,148,526.74.

Scholarships

The $50,000 bequest for a scholarship fund was invested in U. S. Treasury bonds by the Board of Education and the income therefrom given to honor graduates of St. Joseph's High School and Escanaba High School as the will required.

When St. Joseph's closed and Holy Name High School opened, Holy Name graduates shared in the distribution according to a formula agreed upon by the Escanaba School Board and the administrative authorities of Holy Name. More than $25,000 has been given to the recipients of the scholarships since the closing of the estate.

The City of Escanaba received $300,000 in the Catherine Bonifas will, plus the $11,786.96 surplus. The bequests were divided as follows:

State Office Building $100,000
City-County Building $100,000
Recreational facilities $100,000

Our City Council also acted wisely in handling this money. It received permission from Circuit Court to use the full amount of the bequest to build the State Office Building, including interest earned on the original gift and rentals paid for the office space by governmental agencies, about $147,000 was acquired. In 1964 the State of Michigan bought the building, paying $250,000 for it. The State is now considering plans for an addition.

Two Bequests Left

The City Council gave $50,000 to the County Building Authority for the new Delta County Building thereby respecting that wish of Mrs. Bonifas. The city now has about $280,000 available for the two bequests not yet acted upon, the city building and recreational facilities.

At the present time plans are underway for the recreation project, and again the Council is not acting hastily but is securing advice and exploring all avenues to do what is best with the money that was left for the betterment of Escanaba.

It is hoped that this statement will help to preserve a memory of Catherine Bonifas. She had no children of her own, and it can hardly be said that she was comfortable with children, yet she loved them all.

Even after she possessed a fortune she was careful about every penny spent on herself. She might grumble about spending a dollar to repair a tire but that evening she would cheerfully sign checks giving thousands of dollars to charities. And she wished no publicity.

Gratitude too often is short-lived, and it would be tragic if the people of Escanaba, and the children who are enjoying and who will enjoy the benefits of Catherine Bonifas' generosity did not know about her and even forgot her name.

Someone will say, "She had the money. She could not take it with her." Sadly they miss the point. She did not have to give it to Escanaba. But she did!

MR. AND MRS. William Bonifas are pictured on the porch of a building believed to have been a boarding house at Garden. The time is believed to have been in the 1890's.

THREE WOMEN are pictured in the living room of the Bonifas home in Garden early in this century. Mrs. William Bonifas is in the center, and at the right is Miss Mary Hogan, a Garden schoolteacher who became a secretary to William Bonifas and who lived with the Bonifas family until her death. The woman on the left is probably Miss Hogan's sister Nora, of Green Bay.

THE WILLIAM BONIFAS home on Lake Shore Drive in Escanaba pictured here is now the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Ryde. The Bonifases bought this former home of John Christie and added the great wing on the south. Its front has been remodeled since this photograph and the cupola removed.

Good Weather Will Improve Trout Fishing

Stream conditions are normal and if the weatherman gives the nod, black and brown trout fishing should improve in the ensuing period, the Conservation department reports.

Northern Pike best catches have been reported from Poch Lake and the Blind Sucker Flats. Others producing are Millerquinn, Whitefish, Sucker Lake in Alger County, Manistique Lake, Betsy Flowage, Indian and Snyder lakes.

Best walleye catches have been from Indian Lake and Whitefish and Manistique lakes.

Big Browns

Maxton Bay at the east end of Potagamis Bay has been a "hot spot" for yellow perch. Fishing has fallen off in Maizea bay. Best catches are made on minnows. A good run of perch is starting on the north end of Lake George, off the east portion of Sugar Island. Some nice catches are being made off Needle Point and Helmer Bay on Big Manistique Lake.

Best brook trout catches were reported from the East branch of the Fox, about halfway between M28 and the "Springs" and on the Little Fox River.

Gibraltar Board Ordered To Fact Finding Hearing

GIBRALTAR (AP) — The Gibraltar School Board was ordered Wednesday to appear at a fact-finding hearing or face charges of trying to hide the facts behind the school district's week-old strike.

The 117 teachers of the district are on strike demanding a collective bargaining contract, wage increases, grievance procedure and other items.

Daniel Krueger, industrial relations professor at Michigan State University, ordered Gibraltar School Supt. Howard Parr and school board attorney John McDonald to return to fact finding.

McDonald walked out of a fact-finding session Tuesday, claiming his clients weren't prepared, the strike was illegal and the fact-finding should not be compulsory.

Krueger was appointed fact-finder by the State Labor Mediation Board.

In Schoolcraft County, Dillingham Lake in Luce County has been a fair producer. Brookies are waiting to bite on the Tahquamenon, above McMillan bridge. Some good catches also were reported from Teaspoon Creek.

A few big brown trout were caught, incidental to rainbow fishing, trolling in West Bay. Grand Marais and off the mouth of the Big Two-Hearted River, so were reported from Teaspoon Creek.

Coho Catches

Rainbow fishing has been spotty, with much blamed on erratic weather. The Big Two-Hearted has been the best producer this past week. Old-timers feel fishing is about normal but that fishing pressure is heavy for the number of fish. Fair catches also are made in East and West Bays at Grand Marais trolling with a silver flat fish. A few fish are caught each day in the Hurricane and Sable Creeks in Alger County. Good catches are reported from the Black River and fair catches from Carp and the north branch of the Carp in Mackinac County.

A few thumps are still coming into Thompson and Parent Creeks in Schoolcraft County. An occasional lake trout is taken in Grand Sable Lake and by trolling off the mouth of the Two-Hearted River. Some 10-17 inch rainbows are being taken in Pretty Lake in Luce County. Weather hasn't warmed enough to allow good fly fishing on this lake.

Some good coho salmon catches are still reported in West Bay at Grand Marais and off the Two-Hearted mouth. In Lake Superior off the mouth of the Hurricane and Sable creeks, the catches of menominee are good, as well as in the Blind Sucker and Two-Hearted rivers.

The white sucker run is about over in streams tributary to the Great Lakes. Long-nosed suckers are coming in heavy. White suckers have started running heavy in inland streams.

Some nice catches of whitefish are reported in the shallows area of the Upper St. Mary's River, near the pumping station and old crib dock. A number of whitefish were reported taken off the mouth of the Anna River in Alger County.

DETECTIVES COUNT about $6,000 in change left behind in a Brink's Inc., armored truck abandoned in Abington, following theft from in front of the First County National Bank in Brockton, Miss. ## 'Cruise In Space' Keeps Teen Boys Out Of Classes

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — (AP) — Three seventh graders missed a few days of classes this week. They were on a space cruise.

Randy Parker and Steven Wedge, both 12, and Mark Shaul 13, spent the weekend and Monday and Tuesday in a makeshift, very much ground-bound, flag bedecked space capsule. They had parental permission.

When they emerged, wobbly-legged and exhausted after a four-day diet of fruit-flavored baby food, soda, peanut butter, bread and cheese pop, the boys claimed a new world record for such inner space flights — 88 hours.

The capsule, made from a truck camper cover, measured six feet long, six feet wide and four feet high.

To keep themselves busy, the kids played chess and cards and did their homework. "Calling kitchen patrol," the boys spoke into their walkietalkie every hour. Mrs. James Parker, Randy's anxious mother kept communication with the capsule, which was safely anchored in the Parker back yard.

The only other contact the boys had with the outside world was a portable radio, told Mrs. Parker said, to a local station which featured accounts of how they were doing on their voyage.

But they admitted an unorthodox delivery was made to their capsule. A neighbor, one night surreptitiously left three mugs of hot chocolate in an outer room the boys had built on their space ship.

GM Production Resumes After One Shift Strike

PONTIAC (AP)—Normal production resumed at a General Motors Corp. plant late Wednesday after a wildcat walkout idled about 5,000 first-shift workers earlier in the day.

The assembly lines at GM's Truck and Coach Division plant were temporarily idled by the strike, which began about 6 a.m.

Robert White, president of United Auto Workers Union Local 594, blamed the strike on a number of grievances night shift workers hold against the corporation.

Night shift workers massed at the plant in the morning, preventing first-shift workers from reporting for their jobs. The plant gates were cleared a few hours later and production resumed with the day's second shift.

Romney Mans Bean Soup Line

LANSING (AP) — There was a soup line in front of the State Capitol Wednesday.

A grinning Gov. George Romney doled out paper cups filled with bean soup as part of the celebration of Michigan Bean Week.

Romney, who wore a white chef's hat and apron, helped ladle out some 200 gallons of bean soup trucked to the capitol in a mammoth kettle by the Bean Festival Association of Fairgrove.

Long lines of state office workers timed their afternoon coffee break to make it a bean break.

Baked beans and coffee were served in the Capitol Rotunda by women of the Akron Chamber of Commerce. Gratiot County Farm Bureau women passed out cookies, cakes and even candy made from Michigan beans.

The House recessed for half an hour so members could fill up on bean dainties. Members of the Senate, already in recess, also took a break in a day filled with committee meetings.

Find Hog Cholera On Monroe Farms

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's hog cholera-free status has been threatened by a small outbreak of the disease on three Monroe County farms, reports a Department of Agriculture official.

Dr. John Quinn, chief of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Animal Health Division, said that 120 swine on the farms, near the Ohio border, have been destroyed. Owners will receive about $3,600 in indemnity payments from a joint state-federal program, he said.

Last month Michigan became the first major swine producing state to win hog cholera-free status.

This followed five years of intensive statewide eradication efforts by state and federal animal health officials and the swine industry. The cholera-free

Of the three top challengers for the Upper Peninsula Class A-B track and field championship at Marquette Saturday, only Escanaba has ever won the crown in past years. The Eskymos won U. P. Class B titles in the 1941, 1942 and 1944 meets. Ishpeming and Calumet, figured to battle it out with Eskey for this year's crown, have never won a U. P. track trophy.

Gale Tedeschi pitched a one-hitter for C&R Bar in a 5-0 victory over Evelyn's Curve Inn in the Iron Mountain Intercity softball league opener this week. The lone hit off Tedeschi was a single by Don Uren with one out in the seventh. Veteran Carl Lemia fired a four hitter and fanned 13 as his Credit Union team defeated Freeman Buick, 11-2.

Bob Williams, one of the top softball pitchers in the Copper Country, is being transferred by the Navy to San Diego. In three seasons the CPS Office Supply hurler compiled a record of 51 victories against 13 defeats and pitched three no-hitters. One of his best performances came in the U. P. Class A tourney at Crystal Falls last year when he beat Woody's Bar, 2-0, on a two hitter.

Gladstone archer Francis Magnusen placed second in a field of 50 in the men's free style Class B division at the Tomahawk Bowmen Invitational meet in Ishpeming. He fired a 415 score to follow Ed Carlson of Ishpeming who shot a 448 on the 29 target course. Nancy Magnusen was tops in the women's Class C free style with a 210 and Jean Allworth of Escanaba was runnerup with 159. Winner of the bare bow Class C was Bill Preme of Escanaba with a 296 score and Ed Peck of Escanaba was third with 294. The next Upper Peninsula field archery shoot will be held at Iron Mountain Sunday, June 4.

Dan Schram, former Gladstone athlete, picked up a fifth place point for Michigan Tech in the 220 yard dash in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference track meet at Houghton. The event was won by Walter Rhodes of St. Cloud in the record time of 21.4 seconds. Rhodes, who also won the 100 in 9.8, was named the outstanding athlete in the meet.

Coach Rollie Dotsch of Northern unveiled his Olympic soccer kicker from Iran, Abdolali Hashemi, in a game type scrimmage at Marquette, a tussle for the spring practice finale this Saturday night. Hashemi booted a point after touchdown but missed on a pair of 37 yard field goal attempts. The intrasquad game Saturday will begin at 7:30 p. m. following the running of the Upper Peninsula high school track and field finals.

Craig Bartolac of Niagara, current Menominee Range Conference sprint champion, was a double winner in the M&O Conference track meet at Suring. Bartolac set a new record in the 220 with a 22.6 clocking, which matches the U. P. Class A-B record set by Tim Zhulkie of Ishpeming in 1958, and won the 100 in 10.2.

Atlanta Ace Gives 1 Hit

By The Associated Press
Denny Lemaster's fast ball was booming during his warm-up, and it didn't stop once the game started.

Lou Brock singled in the third inning — off a slider — but that was the only hit St. Louis got off the Atlanta southpaw Wednesday night as the Braves beat the Cardinals 2-0.

"Tonight just as soon as I started warming up," Lemaster said, "my fast ball was going boom, boom, boom, right over the plate and I knew that I had it."

The Cardinals had had it, too.

While Lemaster was pitching the second one-hitter of his big league career and the eighth in the majors this season, Pittsburgh was beating Houston 7-4 and Los Angeles was trouncing the New York Mets 8-2 in other National League night games.

Cincinnati beat Chicago 4-3 and then lost to the Cubs by the same score in a day double-header. The San Francisco-Philadelphia night games were postponed because of cold weather.

"I was having a hard time getting my curve ball down and went mostly to my fast ball for the last three innings," said Lemaster, who in warming for his previous start May 19, which he won 5-2 over Pittsburgh, had expressed concern that he was losing his fast ball.

"That wasn't a cheap hit that Brock got," he said, "it was a clean single to center. That took the pressure off me. It came early in the game, and I didn't have to worry about a no-hitter."

Felipe Alou reduced the pressure further in the fifth inning by belting a two-run homer, one of only three Atlanta hits off Rob Gibson, to insure Lemaster's fourth victory in five decisions.

Lemaster walked four, struck out four and lowered his earned run average to 2.47. His other one-hitter was against Cincinnati in 1964.

Roberto Clemente's ninth homer gave the Pirates a 4-4 tie with Houston in the eighth, and Donn Clendenon's sacrifice fly in the same inning drove in the decisive run. The Pirates added two more in the ninth.

The Astros were leading 3-0 and rookie Don Wilson had a one-hitter after five when the Pirates broke loose for three in the sixth on Maury Wills' single and Willie Stargell's two-run homer.

Houston then went ahead again briefly on Joe Morgan's double, a fielder's choice and Bill Mazeroski's throwing error. It was the first run in 15 innings of relief pitching off veteran Roy Face this year. He worked three innings against the Astros and ran his record to 3-0.

Ron Hunt and Willie Davis were the big Los Angeles guns against the Mets. Hunt had three hits, driving in two runs with a double and another with a single. Davis doubled home one run and singled in a pair.

Claude Osteen went the distance for his sixth victory against the Mets single runs in the first and fifth innings.

Sibley Eyes Third Triple Victory

Wakefield Track Star To Close Brilliant Prep Career Saturday In Upper Peninsula Finals Meet

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)
(Second of a three-part series on Upper Peninsula track and field prospects for the finals at Marquette May 27.)

Ray Sibley, mercurial Wakefield athlete, will ring down the curtain on one of the greatest track and field careers in Upper Peninsula high school history Saturday at the U. P. finals meet in Marquette.

The Cardinal speed merchant has dominated Class C sprints and long jump competition as no other athlete has ever done in U. P. circles.

The muscular Wakefield athlete first appeared in U. P. finals competition as a freshman in 1964, finishing second in the broad jump, third in the 100 yard dash and fifth in the 220. Nobody has been able to beat him in a finals event since then.

In 1965 he set a new record of 23.1 seconds in the 220, won the 100 in 10.7 and the long jump at 19 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Last year he cruised home first in the 100 in 10.5, the 220 in 23.85 and took the jumping event at 20 feet 8 1/2 inches. Sibley will be shooting for his third straight triple victory in those three events this weekend. If he succeeds he will become the first athlete in Upper Peninsula history to accomplish that feat.

The stocky senior underwent a knee operation for a football injury suffered last fall and has apparently made a complete recovery. He was the fastest Class C qualifier in the century at 10.5 in the regionals last Saturday. His 23.7 time in the 220 was second only to a 23.4 clocking by Carl Funke of L'Anse. He sailed 20 feet 8 1/2 inches in the long jump, second only to a 20-10 1/2 effort by Jerry LaJeunesse of Houghton.

Track observers feel that Wakefield and L'Anse will battle it out for top team honors in Class C this year. Stephenson is the defending champion but the Eagles appear completely out of the running this spring.

Two athletes are distinct threats to rewrite the Class C record book Saturday. Bob Fredrikson of L'Anse has bettered the existing record of 55.2 seconds in the 440 yard dash three times this spring. He ran the quartermile in 51.9 in his regional test last week-end.

Bill McGee of Marquette Baraga reached 6 feet 1/2 inch in the high jump in the regional, a shade over the record of 5-11 1/4.

Other current stars who have equaled or bettered existing standards in earlier meets this year are Dave Aultman of Crystal Falls with a 12-1 pole vault, the L'Anse 880 relay team with a 1:35.5 clocking, Dick Salani of Hancock with inning with Horace Clarke on base and that was enough for Downing, who lifted his record to 4-3 with his first complete game.

The smallest left-hander allowed just two hits and struck out 13. After Luis Aparicio opened the game with a single and Curt Blefary walked, Downing struck out Paul Blair and Frank Robinson and got Brooks Robinson on a fly ball.

The only other Orioles to reach base were Andy Etchebarren, who doubled with two out in the fifth but was out trying to stretch it into a triple, and Aparicio, who walked in the ninth.

Stanky couldn't contain his joy very long. "Twenty-five hits," he said jubilantly. "This calls for a celebration. I've got to live it up."

McCraw, who had 22 home runs in his first four big league seasons, was just as happy. "I've never had a game like this in pro ball before and I doubt if I'll ever have another," said the big first baseman, who drove in eight runs.

The three homers gave him six for the season and the big day could mean trouble for Stanky.

Analyzing McCraw before the season, Stanky pointed out that he had overcome one of his shortcomings.

"He used to get home run crazy occasionally. But he's licked the problem."

Oh yeah? Home runs were the key for Downing and Lomborg too. Mickey Mantle's ninth of the season and 505th career shot provided both Yankee runs against the Orioles and Dalton Jones' solo homer was the Red Sox' only run against the Tigers.

Mantle connected in the third inning with Horace Clarke on base and that was enough for Downing, who lifted his record to 4-3 with his first complete game.

Oh yeah? Home runs were the key for Downing and Lomborg too. Mickey Mantle's ninth of the season and 505th career shot provided both Yankee runs against the Orioles and Dalton Jones' solo homer was the Red Sox' only run against the Tigers.

Mantle connected in the third inning with Horace Clarke on base and that was enough for Downing, who lifted his record to 4-3 with his first complete game.

Tigers Lose To Red Sox

DETROIT (AP) — George Romney ought to issue a proclamation designating Wednesday as Detroit Tigers frustration night.

"We had all the opportunities to score," said Detroit Manager Mayo Smith after a 1-0 loss to the Boston Red Sox.

The Tigers left four men stranded at third base and failed to score with the bases loaded and one out in the seventh. It was the first time the Tigers have been shut out this season.

Denny McLain wasted his best game of the year, pitching a three-hitter over seven innings. The only run was Dalton Deacon Jones' solo homer in the second inning, the 11th home run McLain has given up this season.

Jones was a last minute substitute for regular third baseman Joe Fox.

Red Sox Manager Dick Williams said he decided to play Jones because he "usually hits good in this park...and he did tonight."

One run was all Boston pitcher Jim Lonborg needed. He held Detroit to four hits and struck out 11 in upping his season record to 5-1.

Lonborg stranded Al Kaline at third base three times, got Ray Oyler to hit into a doubleplay with men on first and third in the second and pitched over a jam in the seventh with the bases loaded and one out.

"That's the guttiest game I've ever seen pitched in my life," said Williams, whose team now has beaten Detroit four straight.

The loss was Detroit's third in a row, tying the season low, and dropped the Tigers 1 1/2 games behind first place Chicago which beat Minnesota 14-4.

The record of futility: Jim Northrup and Norm Cash singled to open the second, But Lonborg fanned Bill Freehan and got Ray Oyler to hit into a double play.

Kaline walked leading off the fourth and moved around to third on a wild pitch and in-field out. Lonborg then struck out Cash.

With one out in the sixth, Lonborg hit Kaline with a pitch and he moved to third on Horton's long fly to right field. But Lonborg got Northrup on an infield grounder.

Two walks and a hit batsman loaded the bases with one out in the seventh. Dick McAuliffe grounded to George Scott at first base and Scott threw to the plate for a force out. Then Lonborg got Don Wert on an infield pop fly.

Kaline doubled to lead off the eighth, and went to third on Willie Horton's infield grounder. But Lonborg struck out Northrup and Cash to end Detroit's final scoring threat.

"With men on base you've got to think," said Lonborg. "You can't just throw the ball by them. I was shooting for a doubleplay grounder on Oyler in the second inning."

Lonborg said he started out using his fastball "but my breaking ball got much better as the game went on and I used that a lot."

The Tigers close the Boston series tonight with Earl Wilson against the Red Sox' Jose Santiago.

Babe Ruth Boys Tryouts Tonight

Fourteen and 15 year old Babe Ruth League candidates must report at the league field tonight at 6 for tryouts. Thirteen year olds who cannot make the final tryouts on Saturday afternoon are also invited.

All boys new to the league must show up at one of the tryouts in order to be eligible for the 1967 season. Players who in the program last year are not required to take part in this week's tryouts.

Registration blanks are available at the home of Paul Vardigan.

Teachers' Study Hours Increased

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education, in the first extensive revision of the Teacher Certification Code since 1938, adopted Wednesday a requirement that teachers study more before they try to teach.

The present code requires teachers to have 10 semester hours of study above a bachelor's degree. The change would double the required amount of extra study.

The code, adopted on a 6-1 vote, still is subject to the decision of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who could raise or lower the number of extra hours of study required.

The Michigan Education Association had called for 20 hours of advanced study before permanent certification would be granted, but some principals and superintendents protested.

Many of them, particularly from Detroit, argued at hearings that 20 hours extra study would sharply reduce the number of persons available for recruitment as teachers.

Thomas Brennan of Dearborn, who voted against adoption of the change, suggested that Kelley might reduce the number of hours required. He said the attorney general's office had suggested 15 hours.

But James O'Neil of Livonia said the 20-hour provision "is really a reasonable compromise."

In 1963, the attorney general's office rejected a code drawn up and state education officials said the high number of hours required for a permanent certificate was the main objection.

Eugene Krasky, attorney general assistant for education, said the changes would be studied thoroughly before a decision is made.

"I understand there were quite a number of other changes made in the code," he said.

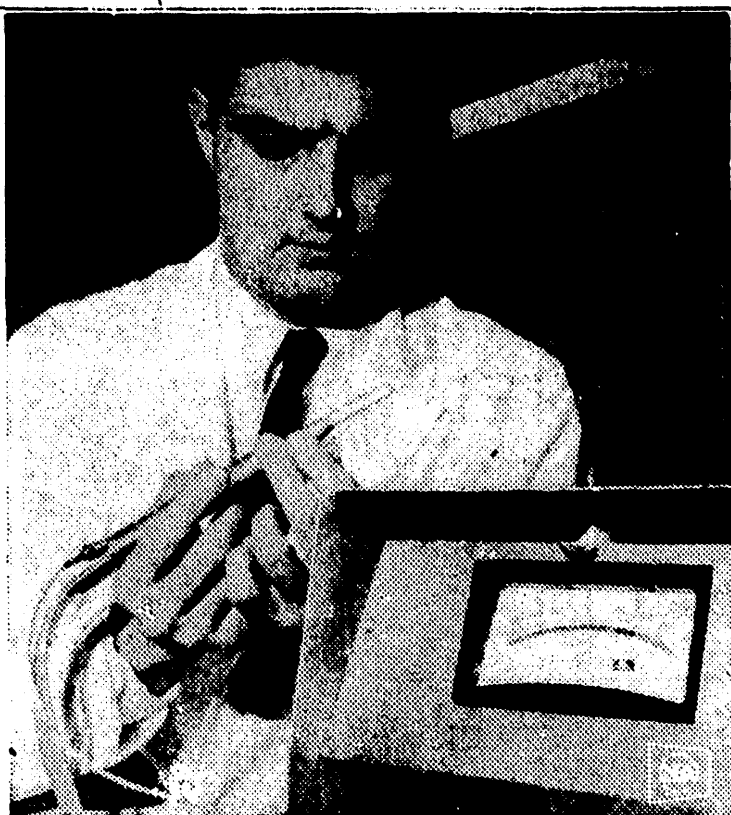

Krasky declined to speculate about the possibility that the 20-hour provision would be changed.

Another alteration in the code involved the other end of the scale of education for teachers.

At present, teachers accepted as substitutes or teaching on temporary certificates must have at least 60 hours of college credits.

The change would gradually lift the minimum to 90 hours by 1970.

The code was drawn up during a year of study followed by hearings held on code proposals.

EYE REPAIR using a frozen probe is being done at the University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor, Mich. The metal-tipped probe is applied to the outer surface of the eyeball as a means of treating breaks and detachments — one of the newer applications of cryo-surgery. Fluid at 75 degrees below zero enters the probe as it touches the eye, and the extreme cold creates an ice "rivet" on the separated retina. The rivet melts when the probe is removed, but scar tissue that develops binds the break.

Doctor Cautions Against Rabies

Everybody seems to know about "mad dogs foaming at the mouth," and "Pasteur treatments," and "sending dog heads to laboratories for brain examination," but the average person often is still not sure exactly what he should do if his youngster is bitten by a dog or a cat, according to Dr. Mary Cretens, director of the Delta - Menominee District Health Dept.

Rabies is caused by a virus that attacks the spinal cord and the brain of warm-blooded animals (including man), and it kills them, usually within fourteen days, Dr. Cretens said. The dramatic "mad dog" symptoms that everybody expects may appear, but not necessarily so. A rabid animal may only act sick or confused.

The disease is spread by virus contained in the saliva of an infected animal getting into a break in the skin of a healthy animal. The usual chain of rabies infection is from wild animals—to domestic animals—to man. A rabid bat or a skunk bites a dog or a cat—and the dog or cat bites a human being (often a child).

Without treatment, rabies is always fatal, Dr. Cretens continued. There are no known exceptions to its lethal effect. Quick treatment is the only defense against it. But the trouble is that these treatments are not without a measure of discomfort and risk to their own.

The question becomes: Was the person really exposed to rabies? If not, let's not risk the treatment. If so, let's do the things that should be done without delay.

Thus the animal that inflicted the injury usually becomes the center of attention. Its health can help determine whether the bite victim gets rabies treatments or not.

Here are four important "rabies rules" you should keep in mind:

1. Identify the animal that did the biting, so it can be watched and checked. Do not kill the animal.

2. Apply first aid by washing the contaminated area with soap and water for fifteen minutes.

3. See a doctor right away. You will need professional judgment about what to do next.

4. Report the incident to your local health officer and to your local dog warden or police. They will want to make sure that the animal is confined and observed carefully for 10 days.

Confusing details about dog brains and laboratory tests and different kinds of vaccines and serums are best left to your doctor, your local health officer, or your local dog warden or police, the doctor emphasized. Your job is to: identify the animal, apply first aid, see a doctor, and report the incident. These steps could save a life. Another precaution against rabies is to make sure that your pet dog, and all the dogs in your neighborhood and community get rabies shots.

AMONG THE JOB OFFERS coming in to Pat Ward, the one-time "real girl of the century," was one from a minister who thinks she can work to keep youngsters off the path to temptation and trouble. The Rev. Harold Baedem, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., asked Miss Ward if she would work at the church this summer. She has appeared on television saying she needed a job desperately. (AP Wirephoto)

Trout Plantings To Boost Fishery

A total of about 100,000 yearling brook trout are scheduled to be released in Grand Traverse, Keweenaw, and Marquette Bays and at Copper Harbor, all in Lake Superior, during the months of June, July and August, according to the Regional office of the Michigan Department of Conservation, Marquette.

Twenty-four thousand fin-clipped fish will be released in Grand Traverse and Keweenaw Bays and 25,000 each in Marquette Bay and Copper Harbor off Keweenaw County. The fish are being released to provide a better brook trout or "coaster" fishery along the Michigan shores of Lake Superior, officials said.

Midland Co-op Debates Change

MINNEAPOLIS—A proposed change in the grocery supply system of Midland Cooperatives, Inc., is being considered by delegates of member cooperative associations at a series of district meetings this week, including one at Marquette, Thursday. Though Midland operates in six states most of its more than 100 member food market cooperatives are in northern Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula.

Under the plan, Midland would change from its past system of purchasing grocery products for the members from a variety of suppliers, and Twin Ports Grocery Co. of Superior, Wis., would become the principal grocery supplier. Twin Ports is a retailer-owned cooperative operating its own food warehouse and food delivery service throughout most of the same territory Midland has served. The addition of the Midland members' grocery volume would nearly double the output of the Twin Ports warehouse.

Of the total Superior-based payroll of approximately 190 permanent employees, approximately 100 positions would remain at Superior. Midland Cooperatives, Inc., is a federated type wholesale,

...seems like a long time

No matter how you look at it, 95 years is a long time, but that's our age and we hope we're the sprightliest 95-year-old you've ever seen.

We don't feel that old, in fact we feel as energetic and enthusiastic as we did the day our doors were first opened for business way back in 1871.

Yet with the years have come some of the things that only time can bring: experience in serving this community; the development of sound judgment, hard won through the lessons of both right and wrong decisions; financial soundness developed through the confidence of thousands of people; flexibility to change with the times; and insight into the needs of an ambitious, progressive community, plus a capital structure that provides real protection for our depositors.

If this is the kind of experience you want in a bank, come in and get acquainted.
